

TONOPAH MEN IN AUTO ACCIDENT

BILLY YOUNG AND GUS LEWIN ARE INJURED WHEN THE MACHINE TURNS TURTLE

Injured Remain on Desert for Three Hours
Awaiting the Arrival of Relief
Machine From Goldfield

Billy Young and Gus Lewin injured and occupying cots in the Miners Union hospital, while Lloyd Lee and James Smith received a severe shaking up but escaping without injury, is the result of an auto accident near Klondyke late yesterday afternoon. The two injured men were brought to Tonopah four hours after the accident, and while awaiting for the relief suffered intense pain.

Young, Lewin and Lee visited Goldfield during the afternoon in the Ford car, owned and driven by Young. Shortly after 4 o'clock the party, augmented by Smith, started on the return trip. Klondyke was reached about 5 o'clock. The machine was traveling at a fair rate of speed when a sandy spot in the road was encountered. At the same time one of the tires blew out and the sudden decrease in speed caused the car to turn turtle in an instant.

Lewin and Young were riding in the front seat with Lee and Smith in the tonneau. The latter two were hurled a distance of about 40 feet and experienced a miraculous escape from injury with the exception of a severe shaking up. Young and Lewin were pinned beneath the machine, which had turned completely around, and was heading in the opposite direction to the course of travel. The entire party was stunned for a minute or two. Lee was the first to regain his senses and assisted by Smith, who also recovered from the shock without delay, extricated the two men from beneath the wrecked automobile.

It was discovered that Young had suffered a broken collar bone and also three fractured ribs. Lewin received a painful gash on his face. After making the injured as comfortable as possible Lee set out for Klondyke about two miles distant, where he endeavored to secure telephone communication with Tonopah. The Klondyke telephone is maintained by the Tonopah & Goldfield railroad and is connected with the depot in Goldfield and this city. Efforts to raise the Tonopah depot proved futile, so finally after securing a connection with the Goldfield depot, assistance was requested. It was two hours afterwards before a relief auto arrived from the southern city. The injured and uninjured were then hurried to this city and Young and Lewin were taken to the Miners Union hospital, arriving at that institution about 9 o'clock.

Smith remained with Young and Lewin while Lee was summoning assistance. During the wait the two injured men suffered greatly from the pain and several times lost consciousness. Young's fractured collar bone protruded through the flesh and it was impossible to relieve his sufferings until the services of a surgeon could be secured.

The injured men were reported as resting comfortably this morning and are expected to be up and about within a week's time. George Jenkins brought the wrecked car to Tonopah this morning. He found the machine where it had completely righted itself and headed in the opposite direction than that taken when the accident occurred. The body of the machine was completely wrecked, but the running apparatus was not injured and the car was run to this city under its own power.

ORE BIN AT WANDERING BOY FALLS FROM ITS FASTENINGS

With a crash that could be heard for several blocks, the ore bin at the Wandering Boy shaft of the Jim Butler Mining Company fell from its fastenings shortly after the noon hour today. The bin contained about 50 tons of ore. G. W. Roberts, who was working in the ore house at the time, had left the bin but a few minutes before it fell from its fastenings. His working partner also experienced a narrow escape from injury, as he was standing near the bin when it fell. The ore was scattered over the ground from the force of the impact, while the huge timbers used in the construction, were smashed to bits. Indians have been in the habit of congregating in the shade beneath the bin, but it is not thought that any of the plumes were present in that vicinity at the time of the accident. However, should a stray redskin happen along at the time the bin fell he was given no chance to make an outcry and the remains will be discovered as soon as the ore is cleared away.

FISHER HAS PLAN TO LEASE ALL COAL LANDS

WOULD ALLOW CITIES TO MINE COAL FOR MUNICIPAL NEEDS

WASHINGTON, August 10.—Secretary Fisher has a plan to allot government coal lands to cities which will operate them under certain regulations to supply municipal needs, as well as those of citizens. As the first step of the plan, Fisher yesterday recommended that congress pass a bill granting 640 acres of coal land to Grand Junction. In the meantime the interior department has withdrawn the land desired.

The general bill of Fisher favors and authorizes the secretary of the interior to patent 640 acres of coal land for each city and 160 acres for each town under conditions providing for the continuous development of the coal, the prevention of any assignment or transfer of land, the safeguarding of health and safety, and preventing undue waste of mineral resources.

The bill provides that the title revert to the government if any city or town fail to fulfill the conditions.

M'NAMARA MILL RESUMES AFTER TEN DAY STOP

DAMAGE RESULTING FROM BOLT OF LIGHTNING REPAIRED
LAST NIGHT

After having been out of commission for the last ten days, the MacNamara mill resumed operations at midnight last night, and was grinding away steadily on company ore today.

The filter plant was placed out of commission by the recent electrical storm, when a stray lightning bolt struck the steel sheet and warped it in such a manner that it proved useless. New parts were ordered by telegraph and have since been set in place and the damage repaired. During the time the mill was idle no ore shipments were sent out. Superintendent Sherwin stated that he did not think it profitable to make shipments during the short period of idleness and will now crowd the mill to its capacity in an endeavor to make up for the loss of time.

TEMPERATURE REPORT
Highest temperature yesterday, 86; a year ago, 84; lowest last night, 58; a year ago, 60.
